For Immediate Release:

UFAW invites nominations for two prestigious awards

The Universities Federation for Animal Welfare (UFAW) is now inviting nominations for two of its prestigious awards to be made in 2013.

The UFAW Medal for Outstanding Contributions to Animal Welfare Science recognises the exceptional achievements of an individual scientist who has made a major contribution to the advancement of animal welfare. It is open to individuals whose research, teaching, service and advocacy has significantly benefited the welfare of animals. Nominated candidates may be based anywhere in the world. The winner of the award will receive a cheque for £3,000, a commemorative medal and framed award certificate. There were two Medal winners in 2012: Professor Christine Nicol of the University of Bristol, and Professor Marian Stamp Dawkins of Oxford University.

The UFAW Young Animal Welfare Scientist of the Year award recognises the achievements of a young scientist who has made significant contributions to improving the welfare of animals. It is open to students, anywhere in the world, currently studying for a doctoral degree and to post doctoral scientists who are within six years of completing their PhD work. The winner of this award will receive a cheque for £1,000 and a framed award certificate. The winner of the 2012 Young Animal Welfare Scientist award was Dr Charlotte Burn, Lecturer in Animal Welfare at the Royal veterinary College.

Further information and nomination forms for either award, which must be submitted to UFAW by 12th March 2013, are available on the 'Grants and Awards' page of the UFAW website (www.ufaw.org.uk) or from UFAW, The Old School, Brewhouse Hill, Wheathampstead, Herts AL4 8AN, UK. Telephone +44 (0)1582 831818, fax +44 (0)1582 831414, email scioff@ufaw.org.uk.

The Universities Federation for Animal Welfare (UFAW) is an internationally recognised, independent scientific and educational animal welfare charity. It works to improve knowledge and understanding of animals' needs in order to achieve high standards of welfare for farm, companion, research, captive wild animals and those with which we interact in the wild.

UFAW improves animal welfare worldwide through its programme of awards, grants and scholarships; by educational initiatives, especially at university and college level; by providing information in books, videos, reports and in its scientific journal Animal Welfare; by providing expert advice to governments and others, including for legislation and 'best practice' guidelines and codes; and by working with animal keepers, scientists, vets, lawyers and all those who care about animals.

This work relies on the support of members, subscribers and donors.
